Hon. Charles Stewart is the Unanimous Choice of the Liberals of West Edmonton.

Stony Plain and district were well represented at the Liberal convention in Edmonton last Friday night; when Hon. Charles Stewart was the unanimous choice of the assembled delegates.

Mr G B O'Connor was in the chair, and the bill was well filled when the meeting was called to order.

Mr Stewart was nominated by Mr Rea of Edmonton; and was seconded by Mr Barthe of St Albert. No other name was submitted.

Hon. Mr Stewart in his speech of acceptance expressed his appreciation of a nomination in what he described as one of the most historic constituencies in the Dominion.

The Minister of the Interior reviewed the political situation as he saw it in the Dominion. At no time in the history of Canada, he said, is national unity more necessary than at present, and he was proud to be associated with Premier King, who was doing great things for national unity, despite the difficulties that had arisen as the result of the tariff wall raised by the U. S.

The Minister of the Interior then took up some of the criticisms of the Government that Liberals might use, and offered his answers to those criticisms. He had been stated that the Government hadn't done anything to relieve economic conditions. To that he would reply that the King administration had been a minority government a greater part of the time and thus it was impossible to act with the freedom of a government with a large backing in the House. The next fight, he predicted, would be with the Conservatives, not the Farmers, and the former had misled the policy of high tariff to the mass, and this would be the big issue. He favored a policy of cooperation with our neighbors across the border rather than tariff against tariff.

Answering the criticism of extravagance Mr Stewart said that there had been a decrease of over 5000 in the number employed in the Civil Service since 1921.

Mr Stewart was strong in his condemnation of group government and said that if he were returned to Ottawa he would represent all groups.

The Minister paid a warm tribute to Premier King and said that Liberals had reason to be proud of what had been accomplished.

Reviewing the election prospects he said it was almost impossible to expect a great majority as now in Quebec but in Ontario the Liberals would make big gains, and would do the same in Western Canada. He was very anxious that Mr King should have a substantial majority, in order that he might show what he could do in the interests of Canada with good support.

An Empire Problem

Conditions throughout Canada have been steadily improving for several months past and present prospects are for a continuance of that most desirable state of affairs. Industrial activity is increasing and the number of unemployed is smaller than at some years, and the prospective harvest gives promise of requiring the labor of every available man, and that the railways will be busy and fully staffed throughout the Fall and Winter months in handling the resultant traffic. Merchandising is still rather slow because people have learned from past bitter experience not to count their chickens before they are hatched. Manufacturers are, however, gradually increasing their output in anticipation of substantially increased business.

The general upward trend is indicated by an increase of five million dollars in the first six months of the year in the construction of new residences and of four million dollars in industrial buildings. Prompt payment of taxes and of mortgage loans, both as to principal and interest, are other signs of the betterment taking place.

There is less talk of Bolshevism and advocacy of half-baked communistic ideas and a more general appreciation of the fact that in this age, as in all past ages, only by and through work on the part of each individual, and the community as a whole, can problems be solved and progress and prosperity be achieved.

The desire for a larger influx of immigrants, especially from the British Isles, is still heard in many quarters based on the now well accepted belief that one of Canada's greatest needs is population. But while the outlook is promising in Canada, it is not so in Great Britain. Ordinarily, it would be thought, that this would result in larger immigration which is desired, but, actually, the reverse is true.

During the war when it became vital to the Empire's security, and the winning of the war to speed up production to the maximum, notwithstanding the absence of millions of men under arms, improved machinery and labor saving devices and methods of all kinds came into practical use, with the result that production was enormously increased. Today a large volume of production can be maintained with a smaller working force. In June last unemployed in the British Isles numbered 1,291,000, or more than a quarter of a million more than in June, 1924. When the families dependent on these men are taken into consideration, it will be realized what a large percentage of the people are without a fixed means of livelihood.

To meet this situation a system of doles was established and has been in effect for some years now. The unfortunate effect has been that tens of thousands of people are now content to live in idleness on these doles rather than accept work when it is offered, while those who are working, and paying heavy taxes to provide these doles, are asking why they should labor hard to support these others in idleness. In a word, the dole system is breaking the morale of the people.

Observers and close students of conditions in Britain find that this dole system is discouraging thousands from immigrating. They prefer to accept the dole, and do nothing, rather than face the possibilities in a new land and the absolute necessity of hard work under new and untried conditions.

Great Britain is over-populated and becoming more so. There is not work for all and no present prospect of it. Industry is burdened in carrying larger staffs of employees now than are actually needed, and, faced with active competition from other countries, and carrying a huge burden of war debt, the outlook is not bright. Unfortunately, too, owing to the lowered morale, a percentage of those who do immigrate do not display the necessary stamina to succeed here and write letters home depicting conditions here as worse than in Britain and stating they wished they had not emigrated.

And all the while Canada needs population and, in the desire of our people that it shall be, as far as possible, British-born, is imposing severe restrictions on the entry of people from other lands, while waiting and hoping for the British people who will not venture, but prefer to idle at home and live on doles which sooner or later must end or bankrupt the country.

It is a real Empire problem. Canada does not want idlers and will not welcome them. The Dominion requires workers, and to those able and willing to work a cordial reception will be extended and for them there is every prospect of success. In fact it is assured to the extent that anything can be assured. But this country will never establish a dole system. The unfortunate through sickness or accident will be cared for, but the I.W.O.'s, no matter what their nationality, will not be tolerated and will have to shift for themselves if they come to this country.

England's Curio King Dead

Aged Auctioneer Had Handled Many Historic Relics

Mr. Henry Stevens, of Stevens Auction Rooms, King Street, Covent Garden, London, who was probably the oldest practicing auctioneer in England, died at Addlestone, Surrey, at the age of eighty-two.

President Kruger's hat and King Charles's waistcoat were among the many curiosities that came under his hammer.

Mr. Stevens had sold every conceivable thing in his time, from an elephant to an auk's egg and a mummy. He sold the late Lord Derby's great menagerie of more than 1,600 animals and birds, the death mask of Napoleon, a piece of Queen Victoria's wedding cake, the spear that killed General Gordon, and one of Dick Turpin's pistols.

He sold twenty-four out of the known seventy-five auk's eggs in the world, one of these realizing £82.10s. An all-black cabbage butterfly was disposed of for £22.

As a child, Mr. Stevens saw the Duke of Wellington's funeral passing along the Strand on its way to St. Paul's, and he often saw Dickens and Thackeray, who would visit the auction rooms on their way to the Garrick Club.

WORRIES IN THE HOME

It is These That Cause Many a Breakdown in Health

Almost every woman has the head of a home meets daily with little worries in her household affairs. They may be so small to notice an hour afterwards, but it is the same little worries that break down the health of so many women. The effect may be noticed in nervous headaches, sickle appetite, indigestion, pains in the side or back, and a shallow complexion. To those afflicted in this way Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, by improving and purifying the blood, bring speedy relief. Among thousands of weak women who have tested and proved the merits of this medicine, Mrs. Gustave Hatt, Bruxelles, Man., who says:—"It is with profound thanks that I write to tell you what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. Before I began taking these pills I was weak, and my blood thin and watery. I was so thin that I looked like a skeleton. I was troubled with headaches and indigestion, did not sleep well, and was terribly constipated. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I soon found that they were just what I needed. Under their use my appetite returned, my food digested properly, and I slept better at night, and gained in flesh as well as strength. The result is that now I am a perfectly healthy woman, and there is no doubt that it is due to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a supply of which I never always keep in the house, and I would advise other women to do the same."

You can get the pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

An Interesting Ceremony

Unveil Calgary Cairn Commemorating Arrival of R.N.W.M.P. in 1875

The jubilee celebration of the founding of the city of Calgary on the arrival of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, was marked by the unveiling of a cairn in Central Park. It commemorated the arrival of P. Troop, of the Mounties, and Inspector Brisbois, in August, 1875. The veil was the Union Jack, and it was drawn aside by Sir Cecil Denney, only surviving member of the troop.

Judge Hoey, New Westminster, B.C., represented the historic sites and monuments board of Canada at the ceremony. The board presented the cairn to the city.

"Good birth is as greatly to be desired by a community as by an individual, and no city has had a better birth than Calgary, founded by the Royal Northwest Mounted Police," he said.

Exceptional Offer To Experienced Farmers

Hundreds of Farmers in Western Canada are looking for an opportunity to purchase a farm of their own in the district where good crops are the rule and the cost of the acquisition

To prevent the movement of a number of Canada's best farmers and citizens to our sister and to the United States, the British Dominions Land Settlement Corporation is prepared to do its share in providing an opportunity for experienced farmers to take up rich fertile lands in Central Alberta under their new settlement plans.

250,000 ACRES OF GOOD FARM LANDS

The Corporation owns over a quarter of a million acres in the most fertile mixed farming areas of Central Alberta. The land lies East and West of the City of Edmonton. The land is rolling and partially prairie with scrub and brush interspersed. The soil over large areas is a heavy black loam with clay sub-soil. Water is plentiful, and wood for fuel and erection of log buildings is within easy reach. No better land for mixed farming is available for settlement in Western Canada.

LOOKS FOR BUILDINGS

The Corporation is now having several thousand logs cut in suitable lengths, peeled and planed ready for building purposes. These logs are within reasonable distances of the farms offered for sale, and can be purchased at cost on five years' credit.

WE WILL FINANCE YOU

The British Dominions Land Settlement Corporation has a capital of $750,000 (or approximately $1,750,000). The Company has a strong British and Canadian Directorate, who are anxious to assist in the successful settlement of Western Canada with prosperous farmers.

It is a profitable business for a settler establishing a farm possessing stock and equipment which is free, or is practically free, from lien or encumbrance, providing they are men of character and farming experience. The land is offered at prices averaging from $10 to $18 per acre. The terms provide that the principal shall be paid in the first three years—interest and taxes only. Principal payments will be made in twelve annual instalments commencing the year—interest rate 7 per cent. The Corporation will advance the equivalent cash up to the value of the settler's chattels which he owns free of debt, but not to exceed $100, to assist the farmer in erecting the necessary buildings and purchasing the stock and other supplies which the Corporation deems necessary for the settler's welfare during the first twelve months. The balance will be secured by lien agreement on the settler's chattels and repayable in five years after possession. No payment of interest is required in the first two years, the whole amount being repaid in six semi-annual instalments during the third, fourth and fifth years.

Experienced Farmers, Married, With Families, Possessing Some Capital

To start farming on the Corporation's land a capital of approximately $750.00 is required. The Corporation is prepared to advance experienced farmers dollar for dollar if they are married and possess a capital of $375.00.

WRITE US TO-DAY — OR COME AT ONCE!

Farmers wishing to take advantage of this offer should communicate at once with the manager of the Corporation at Vermilion, Alberta. The Corporation will be glad to furnish you with further notice can be given immediately.

The Doukhobors held a big mass meeting in Brilliant when an almost unanimous decision was reached to respect Canadian institutions in future.

The Family Physician—The good doctor is always with his fee. But it is not always possible to get a doctor just when you want him. Farmers Of Western Canada Should Give Attention To The Question Of Soil Conservation

In the vast fertile plains of western Canada a Multifield God has given us a glorious heritage, says the Moose Jaw Times. So abundant is it, and so easy of access, its great importance and value to us is very often overlooked. Like so many other blessings, we fail to realize what they mean to us until they have departed from us, leaving nothing but regrets at their loss, and all the more so because we know that for the most part their return is impossible.

If we will read about, or, better still, if we could travel to other lands and see what the agriculturist has to do to care for his soil, we might appreciate and realize what a wonderful mine of wealth we hold in our prairie soil. Instead of being land-robbars, as so many of our farmers are, taking all they can get, and giving nothing in return, we would do all we possibly could to keep our reserve built up.

The world is now pretty well discovered, and there are no more vast areas to go in to possess, so that we must look to what we have to sustain us and contribute to the world's demands for foodstuffs. We cannot hope any longer to fold our tents to pitch them again on another fertile plain to be cultivated and exhausted of its fertility. No, we must conserve our soil values in order that we may continue to have fair returns for our labors, to supply mankind and save the race from famine.

The United States, comparatively only a new country, is already barely an exporting country of grains. The cause of this may be learned from one writer who says: "There is a steady march of abandoned farms from the Atlantic seaboard west." It is almost appalling to see the increasing number of abandoned farms that once produced good crops. The fertility of the soil is gone and it cannot now produce sufficient crops to pay for cultivation." This condition, says the writer, has taken place within his own life-time. The only thing which will restore the fertility of these lands is the use of cheap fertilizers; but even the cheapest of these mean considerable added cost.

What has taken place in the United States has also taken place in the older settled parts of Canada, and even in western Canada the decline of soil fertility is in evidence. If we are wise we will begin to conserve our reserve at once; and this may be done cheaply by good cultivation, thus curing up nitrogen, by a good crop rotation and returning to our soil all the cheap fertilizers which are produced on our farms.

Many farmers let these go to waste rather than exert themselves to spread it over their fields. Even our straw stacks, the fire of which illumines our skies every fall, might be turned to better account than having them go up in smoke.

It is a wise man who sees that his store-house is kept full, and the farmers of western Canada will be wise if they listen and learn from the experience of other countries. Let us keep our farms at a high state of production by the judicious use of brain and muscle, especially the former, and our glorious heritage will be handed down to generations yet unborn, unimpaired, thus giving and maintaining to Canada an inexhaustible store-house of wealth. An ounce of conservation of soil values is worth tons of restoration.

Big Shipment Of Salmon

Since the beginning of the current year the Port of Vancouver has shipped 1,649,775 cases of canned salmon to all parts of the world, according to figures compiled by the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange. The movement of canned salmon is just about finished, and the packing season will start again this month for the fall and winter business.

The Country Boy's Chance

Has Splendid Opportunity To Learn Value Of Money

Out of 5,740 hours in the year the average boy sleeps 3,660, eats 600, school 1,000, works 300 and spends at church 100. The other 3,110 hours largely decide his character and make his life. Out on the farm a long time ago the boy had his own pig and calf and from their sale he got his clothes for winter and his spending money. His work for these gave him an idea what money costs and what it is worth. The boy who has no money except what he is able to beg off the old man or wheedle out of mother is on the road to ruin. There has not been implanted in him the power to accumulate nor the ability to save. Until he shall develop these by many and experiences he will have about as much chance in the financial world as a three-legged blind mouse has in a bunch of hungry tom cats.

The average boy in a city home has no responsibilities and no partnership. The family moves on an average of once a year and the roots of his affections never have a chance to get attached to any spot. He has no place to play except the street and alley, and probably no place of amusement except the pool hall. The neighbors above and below and on every side protest when he makes a noise, and the result is that he comes to dislike the place called home and is never there when he can help himself.—Brandon Sun.

With the Beekeepers

A Young Queen Bee Provides the Strongest Colonies for Winter

Requeening colonies, says the Dominion apiarist, is best done during the latter part of July or early in August. A young queen will at this time, he points out, produce the largest force of juveniles in time for the winter without any danger of being superseded. In the succeeding spring she is still less than one year old and still in her prime, able to carry on brood production at a rapid rate. Figures gathered from twenty colonies in 1923 and 24 show that ten colonies headed with queens less than a year old were rather better producers than those containing older queens. In his article in the July Seasonable Hints the apiarist points out that a good queen in the fall gives strong colonies for winter; that, wintering conditions being equal, these colonies will be the strongest in the spring; and that strong colonies in the spring are those that build up best for the flow.

Sheep Will Eat Sow Thistle

Easy Way to Rid Land of Pernicious Weed

"Sheep relish sow thistle and eat it so closely that the plants are much more easily eradicated when the pasture is broken up to crop," says Mr. M. P. Tullis, field crops commissioner for the province of Saskatchewan, in his recent bulletin on "The Control of Sow Thistle."

"Cattle also will eat sow thistle and thrive on it," continues Mr. Tullis. "Taking off a crop of two of hay from infested land and then pasturing it for a season, furnishes a good preliminary to destroying the root system by cultivation methods. Planting a hay crop on land infested with sow thistle after applying the black-fallow treatment has also proved useful in ridding the land of this pernicious weed."

The findings of Mr. Tullis are confirmed by reports from Minnesota and North Dakota, U.S., where sheep have been found of value in controlling weeds.

Flour Exports From Canada

Wheat flour exports from Canada during the ten months ended May 31st, 1925, totaled 3,759,354 barrels of a value of $62,352,147, as compared with 10,505,352 barrels, worth $54,103,547 in the corresponding period of the previous year. During the period just ended 16,886 barrels of wheat flour were shipped direct to the United States, 2,316,184 barrels to the United Kingdom and 4,436,334 barrels to other countries.

Color Important Factor In Hay

The Principal Consideration In Determining Quality For Market

No. 1 hay must be of good color, color being the principal guide to judging quality for the market. Dealing with this subject, Mr. W. R. White, chief of the feed division of the Dominion seed branch, remarks that there is reasonable freedom from foreign material, hay of any particular class that retains the largest percentage of its natural green color grades highest and commands the best price. Conditions as regards maturity, curing, storing and subsequent damage are all reflected in the color.

Time of cutting and methods of curing are important factors for consideration in the production of hay for market purposes. Hay that has become over-ripe and faded before cutting, or that has been bleached or weathered while curing, has decreased in both palatability and nutritive value.

Mr. White also points out that by raking the hay, and not allowing it to become thoroughly dried in the swath before cutting, as soon after cutting as it is dry on the surface and well wilted, and putting it up in well made cocks where it is allowed to sweat the shattering of leaves is largely prevented and very little loss of color by sun-bleaching occurs.

Further, hay baled from the windrow should be stored with the least possible delay once it is sufficiently cured.

Counsel To Hay Shippers

Hay For Shipment Must Be Put Up In An Acceptable Manner

If, says an authority, speaking of a document from New York, prepared by Mr. Frederic Hurd, Canadian trade commissioner in the United States, we are to export hay we must put it up in an acceptable manner. Mr. Hurd clearly shows good reasons why hay standards should be established to this country. He has investigated complaints made in New York, Philadelphia, and Boston of the poor condition in which shipments of hay have been received and has found them well grounded. Indeed, he says, it would be impossible to exaggerate the condition in which some consignments have been received. As a result, the trade commissioner adds, Canadian hay has had to be sold for less than similar domestic grades, although in many cases it can be considered as good in actual quality. Some dealers have refused to purchase hay from this country on account of previous experience. Last year we shipped to the United States 291,000 tons, but in the two preceding years the average was only 17,000 tons. It is plain that if Canadian shippers wish to meet the need of $4 a ton imposed by our neighbors and other "incidental" losses and retain or increase the foreign trade in hay they must pay careful and diligent attention not alone to quality, but also to packing and shipping.

A man's ears are so placed that he may catch the things said to his face. It was never intended that he should hear the things that are said behind his back.

Canada's Fish Culture Service Has Made Remarkable Strides In Development Of The Work

Gathers Fruit At Night

Searchlight Makes Work Easy On Ranch In New Westminster

An innovation in small fruit picking methods in British Columbia has been introduced by Mrs. C. Alderson, of New Westminster, B.C., who has had an electric searchlight constructed on her large acreage of raspberries which enables the fruit to be gathered at night time.

The advantages gained by this arrangement are many, according to Mrs. Alderson. When the fruit is gathered in the cool of the night it is in much better shape for long distance shipping. One of the difficulties confronting the B.C. raspberry grower in the past is that the fruit ripens too rapidly for the pickers with the result that a fair percentage when finally picked is unfit for shipment.

By use of this searchlight fixed on a swing pedestal 24 feet high, and which will throw its beams over a radius of one and a quarter acres, the fruit left over by the day pickers can be gathered by the night shift.

The mosquito pest is also eliminated as the strong glare of the light drives the insects to cover. Night time picking is getting results on the Alderson ranch. The search light costs only $100 and the light charge amounts to 4 cents per hour.

Trophy Presented By Prince

Personally Handed Cup to Best Shorthorn Owner in South Africa

A very handsome silver cup was offered by the Shorthorn Society of South Africa for the best Shorthorn at the recent Marlborough livestock show. It was an exceedingly artistic trophy in the shape of a suspended bowl.

The cup, which was not a challenge one, was awarded to the owner of the best Shorthorn in commemoration of the visit of the Prince of Wales, who is a patron of the society and who personally handed the trophy to the winner on the show grounds at Marlborough.

The show of Shorthorns at Marlborough was probably the largest ever seen at any show in South Africa. The society held a reception to enable its members who were present to meet the Prince.

Insurance Business Increases

Sales of ordinary life insurance in Canada were 3 per cent greater in May this year than in May of last year. There was a considerable variation in the records of the different provinces, Manitoba, Alberta and Newfoundland showed the best records. The actual volume of sales based on reports of companies doing 53 per cent of the Canadian business was $3,877,000, or well over $1,600,000 of business every day.

Canada was the pioneer in the development of fish culture as a government service in the new world and the science in its modern and true sense had its inception in lower Canada as early as 1864. The first Canadian fish culturist was the late Richard Nettie, of Quebec and Ottawa. He was appointed superintendent of fisheries for lower Canada in 1867, and was given permission to resort to artificial propagation as a means of restoring the salmon fisheries of that province. His first experiments were with trout eggs secured in Jacques Cartier River and Lake Beauport, and these were the first artificially fertilized fish eggs successfully hatched in the western hemisphere.

Fish cultural operations as a Dominion Government service began in 1867, the department of marine and fisheries assisting the late Samuel Wilson in the work of collecting and hatching salmon eggs at Newcastle, Ontario. In 1868 Mr. Wilson was appointed a fishery officer and the Newcastle hatchery was built by the Dominion Government. This appears to have been the first regular hatchery in the new world built and equipped at government expense. A very active interest was taken in fish culture about this time and officials from several of the American states visited the Newcastle hatchery to study the methods followed and equipment undertaken by the commissioner the following year. However, it was not until 1871 that the United States Congress took the initial step towards a national fishery service by creating the office of commissioner of fish and fisheries. The propagation of fish was undertaken by the commissioner the following year.

In 1883 a complete working section of the system of hatcheries in vogue in Canada at that time was put in operation at the great international fisheries exhibition in London, where it carried off the gold medal and diploma, the highest award for the best and most complete fish breeding exhibit. One other gold medal, two silver medals, and a bronze medal with the seals, and accompanying diplomas were also won by Canada.

The expansion with regard to the enlargement of the older hatcheries and the creation of new ones has been gradual and healthy. In 1878 there were seven hatcheries in active operation in Canada with a yearly output of over 9,500,000 fry. The forty-one Dominion Government establishments operating in 1924 distributed approximately 88,000,000 fry and older fish.

While Canada took a leading place in fish culture in its pioneer days in the western hemisphere, she was soon outstripped by the United States federal service the number of hatcheries and the magnitude of distribution. However, at the present time, the Canadian service is second to that of the United States only in the number of hatcheries operated and in the volume of distribution.

Butter Production

Substantial Increase in Output It Shown By Reports

Butter production in the west continues to increase at a rapid rate. Saskatchewan reports that the output in May this year increased by approximately 30 per cent over the figures for May, 1924, complete returns being 1,218,313 pounds, as compared with 946,941 pounds in May last year. Manitoba shows an even greater increase. The provincial dairy commissioner estimates the increase in May at 52 per cent as compared with the May, 1924, output.

Ramsay MacDonald May Visit Canada

A confirmed curiosity pointer in Ottawa to the effect that Night Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the British labor party, is to visit Canada this year. His visit, as planned, it is understood, would be of a private nature with few, if any, public engagements.

Would Visit Canada
The Duchess of York, has made known a wish which she has entertained for quite a long time. She would like to visit Canada, and she remarked to a Canadian official the other day, "I would like to arrange with my brother-in-law, the Prince of Wales, for a stay at his ranch in Canada." The Duchess has never visited the Dominion, and as the Duke has only "toucher" it as a midshipman, the idea of a holiday on the "E.P." ranch appeals to both.—Glasgow Herald.

A Romance of the Spanish Main
CAPTAIN BLOOD
by RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini
"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vignette picture with J. Warren Kerridge in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

"You are no longer that," she said, and strove to smile.
"Yet I have no thanks to you that I am not," he answered. "I think there's no more to be said, unless it be to add the assurance that Lord Julian Wade has also nothing to apprehend from me. That, no doubt, will be the assurance that your peace of mind requires?"

"For your own sake—yes. But for your own sake only. I would not have you do anything mean or dishonouring."

"Thief and pirate though I be." She clenched her hand, and made a little gesture of despair and impatience.

"Will you never forgive me those words?"

"I'm finding it a trifle hard, I confess. But what does it matter, when all is said?"

Her clear hazel eyes considered him a moment, wistfully. Then she put out her hand again.

"I am going, Captain Blood. Since you are so generous to my uncle, I shall be returning to Barbadoes with him. We are not likely to meet again—ever. Is it impossible that we should part friends? Once I wronged you, I know. And I have said that I am sorry. Won't you... won't you say 'good-bye'?"

He took the hand she proffered. Retaining it, he looked at her solemnly, wistfully considering her.

"You are returning to Barbadoes?" he said slowly. "Will Lord Julian be going with you?"

"Why do you ask me that?" she confronted him quite fearlessly.
"Sure, now, didn't he give you my message, or did he bungle it?"

"No. He didn't bungle it. He gave it me in your own words. It touched me very deeply. It made me see clearly my error and my injustice. I owe it to you that I should say this by way of amend. I judged too harshly where it was a presumption to judge at all."

He was still holding her hand. "And Lord Julian, then?" he asked, his eyes watching her, bright as 'happines in the copper-colored face.

"Lord Julian will no doubt be going home to England. There is nothing more for him to do out here."

"But didn't he ask you to go with him?"

"He did. I forgive you the imperfection."

A wild hope leapt to life within him.

"And you? Glory be, ye'll not be telling me you refused to become my lady, when?"

"Oh! You are insufferable!" She tore her hand free and backed away from him. "I should not have come—"

"Good-bye!" She was speeding to the door.

"And you? Glory be, ye'll not be telling me you refused to become my Lady?"

He sprang after her, and caught her. Her face flamed, and her eyes stabbed him like daggers. "These are pirate's ways, I think! Release me!"

"Arabella!" he cried on a note of pleading. "Are ye meaning it? Must I release ye? Must I let ye go and never set eyes on ye again? Or will ye stay and make this exile endurable until we can go home together? Oh, ye're crying now! What have I said to make ye cry, my dear?"

"I thought you'd never say it," she mocked him through her tears. "There was never, never anybody but you, Peter."

Governor Blood forgot the duties of his office. He had reached home at last. His odyssey was ended.

They had, of course, a deal to say thereafter, so much, indeed, that they sat down to say it, whilst time sped on, and Governor Blood forgot the duties of his office. He had reached home at last. His odyssey was ended.

And meanwhile Colonel Bishop's feet had come to anchor, and the Colonel had landed on the mole, a disgruntled man to be disgruntled further yet. He was accompanied ashore by Lord Julian Wade.

A corporal's guard was drawn up to receive him, and in advance of this stood Major Mallard and two others who were unknown to the Deputy-Governor: one slight and elegant, the other big and brawny.

Major Mallard advanced. "Colonel Bishop, I have orders to arrest you. Your sword, sir!"

Bishop started, empurpling. "What the devil? Arrest me, d'ye say? Arrest me?"

"By order of the Governor of Jamaica," said the elegant little man behind Major Mallard. Bishop swung to him.

"The Governor? You're mad!" He looked from one to the other. "I am the Governor."

"You were," said the little man dryly. "But we've changed that in your absence. You're broke for abandoning your post without due cause and therefore imperilling the settlement over which you had charge. It's a serious matter, Colonel Bishop, as you may find. Considering that you held your office from the Government of King James, it is even possible that a charge of treason may lie against you. It rests with your successor entirely whether you're hanged or not."

Bishop rapped out an oath, and then, shaken by a sudden fear: "Who the devil may you be?" he asked.

"I am Lord Willoughby, Governor-General of His Majesty's Colonies in the West Indies. You were informed, I think, of my coming."

The remains of Bishop's anger fell from him like a cloak. He broke into a sweat of fear. Behind him Lord Julian looked on, his handsome face suddenly white and drawn.

"But, my Lord—" began the Colonel.

"Sir, I am not concerned to hear your reasons," His Lordship interrupted harshly. "I am on the point of sailing and I have not the time. The Governor will hear you and so doubt deal justly by you."

He waved to Major Mallard, and Bishop, a crumpled, broken man, allowed himself to be led away.

To Lord Julian, who went with him, since none deterred him, Bishop expressed himself when presently he had sufficiently recovered.

"This is one more item to the account of that scoundrel Blood," he said through his teeth. "My God, what a reckoning there will be when we meet!"

Major Mallard turned away his face that he might conceal his smile, and without further words led him a prisoner to the Governor's house that so long had been Colonel Bishop's own residence. He was left to wait under guard in the hall, whilst Major Mallard went ahead to announce him. Miss Bishop was still with Peter Blood when Major Mallard entered. His announcement startled them back to realities.

"You will be merciful with him. You will spare him, all you can for my sake, Peter," she pleaded.

"To be sure I will," said Blood, "but I'm afraid the circumstances won't."

She effaced herself, escaping into the garden and Major Mallard fetched the Colonel.

"His Excellency, the Governor, will see you now," said he, and threw wide the door.

Colonel Bishop staggered in and stood waiting.

At the table sat a man of whom nothing was visible but the top of a carefully curled, black head. Then this head was raised, and a pair of blue eyes solemnly regarded the prisoner. Colonel Bishop made a note in his throat, and stared into the face of His Excellency, the Deputy-Governor of Jamaica, which was the face of the man he had been hunting in Tortuga to his present undoing.

The situation was best expressed to Lord Willoughby by Van der Kuylen as the pale stepped aboard the Admiral's flagship.

"It is very bad indeed!" he said, his blue eyes twinkling. "Captain Blood is fond of twinking—you remember de abble blossoms—'Bot' Ha, ha!"

The End.

Remarkable Land Settlement Plan

Infidential British Company to Assist Settlers and Promote Colonization
The Vermilion district in central Alberta is this summer the scene of a remarkable and most promising development in land settlement.

The undertaking referred to is that of the British Dominions Land Settlement Corporation Limited, a powerful financial organization formed in London, England, for the express purpose, as its name implies, of promoting land colonization in the Overseas British Dominions and particularly in this Dominion of Canada. This company represents a new departure in the way of assisting agricultural families of small means who desire to establish themselves on the soil. Backed by millions of Old Country money, it provides the right kind of farmers with land on easy terms and aids them in equipping these farms and getting thoroughly established thereon.

The high character of the company is indicated by the personnel of its British directorate, which includes: The Duke of Sutherland, chairman; the Right Hon. Sir Newton Moore, K.C.M.G., formerly prime minister of western Australia; the Right Hon. Sir Arthur Griffith Boscawen, formerly minister of agriculture in the British cabinet; Sir Edward Manville, chairman of the great Dalmer Motor Car organization; Sir Robert Lynn, M.P.; Col. A. G. Cunningham, O.B.E.; and Mr. Mervyn Brown. These names in themselves, furnish a guarantee of the standing of an organization which has for its object the use of British capital in assisting to develop and people the vacant spaces of the empire—an ideal which has seized the mind of the British people especially during the years which have succeeded the war. In the United Kingdom it is more than ever recognized that the future of the Mother Country lies in the growth of the outlying parts of the empire. The Canadian board of the corporation is constituted as follows: Mr. Mervyn Brown, chairman; Mr. Robert McKay, of Allan, Kilian & McKay, Winnipeg; Mr. W. F. Carter, of Carter, Hall & Aldinger, Winnipeg; Mr. W. F. Dutton, Winnipeg; and Mr. Isaac Pitblado, K.C., as special counsel. Mr. W. T. Badger is general manager.

To be specific, the British Dominions Corporation sells its land at fair prices and on a five-year term, with no cash for three years except interest and taxes, the principal to be discharged during the remaining twelve years of the period. Besides giving land on such reasonable conditions, the corporation advances to settlers, having no livestock and equipment, two dollars for every one dollar put up by the settler for these necessities. For the money thus advanced the corporation takes back a five-year chattel mortgage, to which only interest is payable for two years, thus leaving the principal to be discharged in the third, fourth and fifth years of the loan. To be acceptable to the corporation, the farmer must have a family or at least be a married man. The corporation is cutting and stacking logs for sale to settlers on five years' credit, thus making it easier for the newcomer to erect a shelter for his family without delay. Where it appears necessary, the corporation advances even food for the family and feed for the animals during the first months of occupation. Supervisors in the employment of the company constantly circulate amongst the settlers, keeping in touch with their needs and offering advice and assistance wherever such is called for.

It will thus be seen that the company offers an exceptional opportunity to (1) the married renter who possesses livestock and equipment and wishes to have a farm of his own; (2) to the married farm laborer who wishes to become a land owner; and (3) to the married farmer who, owing to his present unfortunate location, has suffered from drought, floods or frost. While the British Dominions Corporation intends later on to extend its operations to other parts of western Canada, it has chosen the fertile section of central Alberta as the scene of its first undertaking. In this area it has become the outright owner of 262,000 acres of land. Of this land about 150,000 acres consist of scattered sections, half-sections and quarter-sections lying between the Vermilion and Saskatchewan Rivers with the town of Vermilion as the chief distributing point. The rest of the company's holdings lie west and north of Edmonton. Driving north from Vermilion through the main east block, one encounters a series of rolling hills and valleys, the hills green with verdure and dotted with darker green clumps of trees and brushwood. The landscape is interspersed with small lakes and is thus an exceptionally attractive one. The prevailing soil is a black loam with a clay sub-soil.

WORKING GIRL'S EXPERIENCE

Read How She Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Arnprior, Ontario.—"I must write and tell you my experience with your medicine. I was working at the factory for three years and became so run-down that I used to take weak spoons and would be at home at least one day each week. I was treated by the doctor for anemia, but it didn't seem to do me any good. I was told to take a rest, but was unable to, and kept getting weaker. I was troubled mostly with my periods. I would sometimes pass three months, and when it came it would last around two weeks, and I would have such painful times in my right side that I could hardly walk. I am only 19 years of age and weigh 116 pounds now, and before taking the Vegetable Compound I was only 108 pounds. I was sickly for two years and some of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken a bottle of it I felt a change. My mother has been taking it for a different ailment and has found it very satisfactory. I am willing to tell friends about the medicine and to answer letters from those who write to Miss HAZEL BERNETT, Box 70, Arnprior, Ontario.

A day out each week shows in the pay envelope. If you are troubled with some weakness, indicated by a run-down condition, tired feelings, pains and irregularity, let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound help you.

PREMIER KING SAYS NO DATE SET FOR ELECTION

Ottawa.—Premier Mackenzie King states that there would be no decision in regard to an election for some time to come. The premier made this statement at the conclusion of a cabinet meeting which was attended by but five members of the government. Those present, in addition to the premier, were Rt. Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways and canals; Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice; Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor; and Hon. A. B. Cope, secretary of state.

Mr. King said that the meeting had been called for the purpose of disposing of a number of routine matters which have accumulated during the ten days' respite of the cabinet.

"When will the next meeting of the cabinet be held?" he was asked.

"Not for a couple of weeks," he replied.

When asked whether there had been any decision in regard to the calling of a general election, the premier laughed.

"You may be quite sure of one thing. There won't be any decision in regard to an election for a good time to come," he replied.

First Child Welfare Congress

Canada Will Be Represented At Geneva Conference In August

Toronto.—First in the history of mankind will be the International Congress on Child Welfare to be held in Geneva from August 24 to 25, plans for which are now almost completed. This great undertaking, organized by the Save-the-Children Fund International Union, will see a remarkable gathering where representatives of more than 40 nations will convene for the purpose of considering and making practicable plans for the benefit of the children of the world; who will then be studied as the people's first asset, to be given first preference in all cases where the welfare of the child is concerned.

The keynote of the discussion and debates will be what is known as the "Declaration of Geneva," or "The Children's Charter," which Canada has already signed in company with most other nations, and adopted by the League of Nations in September, 1924.

Canada has already become interested in the "Children's Charter" through its connection with the International Council of Women. Canada too has worked from coast to coast in the interests of the Save-the-Children Fund, and the Dominion will be represented at the congress by Frank Velph, Canadian representative of the fund.

Ask Recall of Ambassador

Teheran, Persia.—Reports in well-informed circles here saw that because of pressure of the great powers, China will ask Moscow to recall M. Karakhan, the Russian ambassador to Peking. M. Pataukoff, chief of the eastern section of the Soviet foreign office, will arrive here shortly to recuperate his "health." M. Pataukoff's absence, diplomats here say, will leave vacant a post in which Karakhan would fit admirably.

Harvesters From B.C.

Victoria, B.C.—Officials of the British Columbia department of labor here are preparing now for the annual trek of harvesters to the prairies.

Railway officials will confer with representatives of the labor departments of all western provinces in Winnipeg. It was announced. It is anticipated that the fares will be about the same as those in effect last year.

Dutch Farmers Coming

Montreal, Que.—Hundreds of ambitious, college-trained Dutch farmers will probably come to Canada next spring," said R. L. Doyle, graduate of the Groningen Agricultural College of the Netherlands. He has just concluded a tour of western Canada. He said Hollanders make fine farmers and pioneers.

W. N. U. 1586

Vancouver Welcomes

Earl Haig

Great British Leader Pleads For Unity and Fellowship

Vancouver.—Unity of effort for the re-establishment of returned soldiers in all parts of the British Empire, was advocated by delegates representing India, Australia, New Zealand, Rhodesia, north and south Ireland, and Great Britain at a dinner given here by a local reception committee to the members of Earl Haig's party, who attended the recent meeting in Ottawa of the Empire Service League and who came to the coast with the field marshal.

The speakers included Brig-Gen. H. P. McDonald, Brig-Gen. James Wylie, of South Africa; Senator James Cornell, of Australia, and others.

The great British leader, in plain language and with modest demeanor, with a manner that left no doubt as to his sincerity of purpose, exhorted all ex-service men to unite under the one banner in friendship, unity and purpose, a purpose that would make for the British Empire and the ushering in of world peace.

"In the interests of liberty, justice and good fellowship and peace, I hope it will not be long before Canada ex-service men will be united," declared Earl Haig, in his closing sentence amid applause that swept through the great building.

Wheat Pool Builds Elevators

To Construct Thirty More Elevators At Saskatchewan Points

Regina.—Construction of a further 30 country elevators at points in the province where it is found impossible to purchase suitable houses has been authorized by the executive of the Saskatchewan wheat pool. Contracts have been awarded, under the new authorization, for the erection of elevators at the following points: Swift Current, Luseland, Borden, Semans, Akereld, Valor, Coppen, Shaunavon, La Piche, Limerick, Hardy, Melara, Ravensburg, Spring Valley and Gravelbourg.

If it is found impossible to purchase suitable elevators, it is anticipated that new country elevators will also be built at the following points: Strathburg, Uren, Gull Lake, Palo, North Bligh, Kiskey, Weyburn, Fox Valley, Success and Edgely.

The original elevator building programme adopted some months ago authorized the construction of thirty elevators. Under this programme, elevators have been erected for the pool and are ready to handle grain at Bulsey, Balgonie, Indian Head, Quinton, Yellow Grass, Dunblain, Dodsland, Simpson, Ventnor, Grayson, Rosedale, Hamilton, Brockton, Blaisy and Kinley.

Canada's Motor Car Production

Lower Than In 1923 But Exceeds Other Years

Ottawa.—Canada produced a total of 132,550 motor cars during the past year, a decrease of nine per cent. from the maximum attained in 1923, but exceeding in number the production of any other year.

The output in 1924, according to the Dominion bureau of statistics, included 98,365 passenger cars, 18,043 trucks, and 16,172 chassis, valued in the aggregate at $88,450,418, at factory selling prices. Capital invested reached a high point in the industry at $20,765,856, as contrasted with slightly more than $60,000,000 in 1923.

Alberta Legislature

Will Meet August 3 To Hold Short Session

Edmonton.—The adjourned session of the Alberta Legislature will meet August 3, the last named of the several provisional dates announced by the government.

This was decided definitely at a full meeting of the cabinet and steps are being taken accordingly for calling the house together.

Premier Greenfield says the session will necessarily be a short one. With harvest time drawing near, there will be no desire on the part of the country members, at any rate, to prolong it, and quick work is expected.

EXPRESS FEAR OF FUEL SHORTAGE NEXT WINTER

Ottawa.—"The Canadian consumer will be well advised to get in a sufficient supply of whatever fuel he proposes to use next winter, without loss of time." This is the advice given by C. A. Magrath, who was fuel controller during the war, and as a member of the federal advisory fuel committee, had much to do with the arrangements looking to the protection of Canada's interests in the big United States hard coal strike of 1922.

"Seldom has the fuel outlook seemed so threatening as at the present time," says Mr. Magrath in a statement recently issued. He points out that coal miners are on strike in eastern and western Canada, that there is possibility of trouble in the British coal field, and that there is every possibility of a bitter fight in the Pennsylvania coal region at the end of next month.

Heavy Loss From Hail

Approximately 350,000 Acres Damaged In Saskatchewan

Regina.—Between 1,000 and 1,200 farmers will claim insurance aid as the result of the hail damage to crops in southern Saskatchewan by the cyclonic hailstorm last week, it was estimated by insurance companies' officials. The claims will range from 20 to 100 per cent.

From reports received from the districts visited by the hailstorm, approximately 358,000 acres were damaged, and the loss on this acreage will average 50 per cent. A large number of farms reported hail losses of 100 per cent, and very few were as low as 40 per cent.

Alaskan Village Hit By Flu Epidemic

Entire Indian Population Affected and Eight Have Died

Juneau, Alaska.—Eight natives are dead and the entire population affected by an influenza epidemic, which has swept an Indian fishing village on Bristol Bay, bureau of fisheries' representatives in the district reported. Conditions in the region have been improved, "but most of the Indians have been sick and unable to fish and will suffer during the coming winter, if not aided in some way," the report said.

Italy Has Right Idea

Rome.—There is always a good attendance at the sessions of the Roman senate, in marked contrast to the many empty seats at meetings of the Canadian senate. Italian senators are paid only for the sessions they attend.

London.—Air mail service is now in operation between London, Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

THE WHARF AT MINAKI INN

The fire demon was unkind to the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association delegates when he rased Minaki Inn, where the members of the party were to have spent Saturday and Sunday as guests of the Canadian National Railways. However, some of the members of the party were able to secure reservations at Minaki Lodge for a day or so on their return journey and this is a sample of the scenery which greeted them there.

Alberta Hail Loss

Over Seven Million Dollars Damage Is Reported Already

Edmonton.—More than seven million dollars damage by hail has been done to grain crops in Alberta this summer, according to information received by the provincial department of agriculture. The department has been investigating the situation and has been getting reports from all the hail insurance companies and the municipal hail insurance board, which go to show that about 3,000 claims for damage by hail have been received to date.

Hon. George-Hoadley, minister of agriculture, points out that at a fair average of 100 acres per claim and on the basis of total loss, as usually figured by the insurance companies, with an estimated value of $1.50 per bushel of wheat, there will be a loss of $25 per acre, or $7,500,000 as a total loss, to be deducted from the province's grain yield this year.

Anxious To Extend Knowledge Of Empire

Members of British House of Commons Coming to Canada

London.—A number of members of the British House of Commons will shortly proceed to Canada, thus adopting the advice recently given them as members of the United Kingdom branch of the Empire Parliamentary Association by Premier Baldwin to extend their knowledge of other parts of the world, while the House of Commons is not in session.

The large party, which includes the wives of several prominent members, will attend conferences of the Inter-parliamentary Union at Washington and Ottawa. They will leave England September 19. Right Hon. Ramsey MacDonald, former premier, hopes to go to Canada this fall, if other arrangements will allow. According to his present intentions, he will leave on the Megantic, October 3.

Harvesters From Overseas

Reported That Over Two Thousand Workers Are Coming From Central Europe

Quebec.—Over 2,000 harvesters from European countries are expected to pass through Quebec on their way to the Canadian west from now until the fifteenth of August. The majority of them will be from Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Germany, and the remainder from other countries of central Europe.

In order to obviate the danger of these immigrants becoming public charges when the harvest is gathered, arrangements have been made with western farmers to keep them on throughout the winter at a salary of $25 a month.

Killed By Own Invention

Redwood, Calif.—Gratien Moreau was killed by his invention to check holdup men. He had devised a method for concealing in the coat sleeve a gun which would be discharged automatically as a man put up his hands at the command of the robber.

TO FURTHER THE INTERESTS OF WESTERN CANADA

Edmonton.—The spirit of co-operation between the prairie provinces and the Pacific coast which has been developed in the conference of western mayors and other civic officials held here, is to be carried into a permanent organization as a result of a decision at the closing session. An executive committee of six members was named, composed of Mayor L. D. Taylor and ex-Mayor R. H. Gale, of Vancouver, for British Columbia; Mayor Hardie, Lethbridge, and Mayor Blatchford, Edmonton, for Alberta; and Mayor Howard McLaren, of Heggar, and Mayor J. B. Gregory, of North Battleford, for Saskatchewan. This committee will have power to add to its number, and it has been instructed to continue the work begun and to arrange for further conventions at future dates.

After a lengthy discussion, it was decided that the government be asked to abolish the permit system for the shipment of grain westward. An amendment sought to refer the question to the executive committee for action, but Mayor Taylor, Mayor Blatchford, and G. G. McGeer, K.C., urged strongly that the conference take action at once in urging that the system be abolished, and the shipment be given the same privilege of shipping to the west that he now possessed to ship to the east.

Want U.S. In World Court

Could Withdraw If Outlawry of War Not Upheld by Europe

Washington.—Certain advocates of the world court, who have been working quietly for months, have come forward with a compromise plan of United States entry, which they will push between now and the time the administration proposals are brought up in the senate in December. The compromise has been hooked up with conditions, with President Coolidge's proposed conference on limitation of armament.

It provides for entry under the administration proposed, but with the understanding that the United States would withdraw from the court after a specified period if the nations of Europe do not join in a general convention for outlawry of war.

Will Hear Cases In West

New Commissioner of Reparations Leaving Ottawa About August 1

Ottawa.—The new reparations commissioner, James Friel, K.C., will leave for the west to hear cases about the first of next month.

Commissioner Friel will make his first stop at Winnipeg on or about August 3, where he will hold sittings for applicants who have not yet been heard.

His itinerary includes stops for hearings at Regina, about August 5; Saskatoon, August 7; Edmonton, August 10; Calgary, August 13; Kamloops, August 17; Vancouver, August 18; and Victoria, August 24.

The dates are necessarily subject to change, depending on how long the commissioner is required to stay in the different cities which he visits.

IN line with new legislation being passed in the various States of the American Union aimed to diminish the alarming number of accidents through reckless driving of automobiles, particularly on level railroad crossings, the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada has requested the Canadian Pacific Railway to submit information bearing upon similar dangerous practices by motorists on various portions of its system so that use may be made of the information with a view to endeavoring, through education, to minimize the occurrence of such dangerous practices.

In a Bulletin issued by the Board of Railway Commissioners on June 15th, 1923, 54 cases of danger at protected crossings are cited for the period October, 1922, to May, 1923, and of these fifty are declared to have been due to the carelessness of motor drivers. "Motor accidents," says the bulletin, "are becoming more frequent. Every sane motorist deplors this. If accidents are to be lessened, the sane motorist must educate the culpably negligent motorists."

All highway crossings are by law protected by signs, and they are only dangerous when the driver of the automobile makes them so. They are not dangerous if motorists will take a small part of the care they exercise in turning on a city street. It is the motorist's carelessness that makes them dangerous. The train has right of way. Everyone knows what may happen if the plainly seen warnings are disregarded at a point where the motor car can stop while the train cannot.

The surprising part of it also is that safeguards and precautions erected by the railroads are so often entirely ignored. Time after time newspaper reports show that crossing alarm bells, barrier gates and even watchmen waving "stop" signals mean nothing to the man in the motor car who is determined to beat the train to it.

Coroners' juries are usually more discriminating and put the blame where it belongs, but the general public, seeing the usual newspaper heading, "Train Crashes into Motor Car," starts out with the impression that the train must necessarily be to blame, when, as a matter of fact, a fairer statement of the case would be "Another Auto Gets in Path of Fast Train." Quite as often, too, the heading should read, "Flying Auto Dashes into Moving Train." Frequently the auto strikes the train well behind the engine, a convincing indication that the motorist too frequently treats the railroad crossing with the same casual notice that he gives the intersection of a quiet country road.

Out of 32 level crossing accidents that happened in Ontario during 1922, 22 were the result of the motorist not heeding the stop signal and seven were the result of running into the lowered gates or actually passing under them after they were lowered or while they were being lowered. One man had no headlights and apparently did not see the gates were down while the remainder in other ways, tried to cross in front of the engine in order to save time.

In an editorial on this question, the Toronto Star says that: "In a country like this, with its magnificent distances, and railway systems with twenty thousand miles of track, the time may never come when all level crossings will be eliminated. With motor cars in use everywhere there is no railway crossing so remote but that a motorist may reach it. It is his business to see that he does so at a safe moment. It is his business for two reasons: (1) because it is the presence of him and his car at that time and place, and not the coming of the train, which creates the risk of a crash; and (2) because if there should be a crash he and his car will be crushed, and not the train."

Here and There

Record said a lot of mackerel was reported from Yarmouth, N. S., and nearby fishing villages. One man at Cranberry Head took over 100 barrels of fish from one trap and another fisherman at Burns Point reported over seventy-five barrels from a single trap.

Thirteen ships with a total of 7988 head of Canadian cattle left Montreal during May and three more ships left during the first week of June. Canadian cattle are now stated to be in strong demand in the British market despite Irish and English competition.

The reconstructed Basilica at Ste. Anne de Beaupre which was destroyed by fire in 1923 will be open to the public on the second Sunday in September, according to a recent report and it is expected that the huge pilgrimages to the famous shrine will shortly be resumed.

A remarkable wave of interest in Canada is sweeping Great Britain at the present time and all sorts of information is being sought by British firms as to conditions in the Dominion according to F. W. Motley superintendent of the Dominion Express Company of Canada for Europe who arrived here recently for a trip across the country.

Canada's third largest industry, its tourist traffic showed an increase of 60,000 in the National Parks for 1924, according to a report issued by Commissioner J. P. Harkin. Banff and Lake Louise, in the Rocky Mountains, showed a combined advance of 15,000 visitors. At Banff 1,693 camping permits were issued.

Robert E. Barlow, manager of Walter Hagen, announces that the British Open Championship winner will make a golf tour of Western Canada, this summer visiting Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and the famous Rocky Mountain course at Banff. Hagen has won the British Open Championship twice and the United States Open Championship once.

Arrangements have been completed for staging the biggest Indian Pow-wow ever held on the North American Continent at Macleod, Alberta, early in July. Thousands of Indians from the Bloods, Blackfeet, Peigans, Gros, Crees, Stoney, Sioux and representatives from the Six Nations, in the East will take part in the historic and picturesque pageant.

A Canadian Pacific Railway freight train was recently held up near Lemberg, Sask., by a swarm of tent caterpillars which interfered with the functioning of the drive wheels on the grassy rails, where the insects had gathered in millions. All efforts to plow through or remove the swarm were unsuccessful and no progress could be made until half the cars were discharged.

Preparations are practically complete for the 1925 Calgary Exhibition and Stampede. It is anticipated that the stampede this year will be the biggest ever held. It has been extensively advertised in Canada and the United States, and a large number of inquiries have been received from interested parties, who anticipate being present. Entries have been received from all the best known riders and ropers on the continent, and the large number of valuable prizes offered for competition ensures that the spectator will see the best that can be offered in the way of broncho breaking, roping, wild steer riding, etc.

French Canada Celebrates Its History

June 24th of every year is the great day of the French-Canadian. In every city and every hamlet of Quebec Province and in the cities and centres of the New England States and in those parts of Ontario and the West where he has migrated St. Jean Baptiste Day is never overlooked. It is well that it should be so and it introduces into Canada an Old-World seventeenth century atmosphere that Canadians could ill afford to lose, either artistically or historically. Our pictures show some interesting features taken from floats exhibited on this occasion. There is the heroic 17th century farmer defending gun in hand his crops which his father and women folk are reaping. The children on their way to school watch the housewife baking her bread in the old-fashioned oven which is still in extensive use in Quebec Province. The making of maple sugar, an industry developed from the researches of Dr. Sarrasin in 1665, is yet another popular float which always figures in the celebrations.

Urge Marines To Revolt

Red Propaganda Directed At British Fleet Visiting Norway

The arrival of a British fleet for a visit to Oslo was marked by intensive demonstration by Norwegian communists. Secret appeals were made to the blue-jackets and the marines.

"Rise in revolt, rather than obey your government if you are ordered to make war on Russia," was one message floated in the face of the British fleet by local communists.

The appearance of the inflammatory propaganda directed at the British fleet visiting Norway was resented deeply by the Norse Government as well as the British officers of the fleet. Russia has objected to the presence of a British fleet in northern waters and this propaganda is taken to have been inspired by Moscow.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather.

Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child they will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JULY 26

THE COUNCIL AT JERUSALEM

Golden Text: We believe that he shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus. Acts 15:11.

Lesson: Acts 15:1-35.

Devotional Reading: Romans 5:1-9.

The Text Explained and Illumined

Trouble at Antioch of Syria, Paul reported to the church at Antioch in Syria "all things that God hath done with them," and gave as the great result of their work the fact that "God had opened a door of faith unto the Gentiles."

When the news reached the church at Jerusalem, they found the door unto the Gentiles too wide ajar to suit them.

Until Paul took up the work, the Christian churches, like the Jewish synagogues, had been composed of Jews and proselytes, the proselytes being Gentiles who had received the Jewish rite of circumcision. In attendance at the services there were also the "God-fearing" or "devout" Gentiles, who, not having been circumcised, were not in "full fellowship" with the rest. That God was no respecter of persons Peter had learned at Joppa, and the Jerusalem Church, after hearing all the circumstances in regard to the baptism of the Gentile Cornelius and his household, had glorified God, saying, "Thun to the Gentiles also hath God granted repentance unto life."

The truth, however, had been applied in only a few special cases, and the far-reaching consequences to the Church had not been foreseen. Now a crisis was reached. Certain members of the Jerusalem Church came to Antioch and declared that unless all were circumcised according to the custom of Moses, they could not be saved, thus insisting that Gentiles must first become proselytes before they could become Christians.

"The best ball game of the season" was the unanimous verdict of those who witnessed the game Thursday night on the local grounds. Walther League and the Grove teams played, and no runs were scored till the third inning. The game was noticeable for the quiet and orderly manner in which all conducted themselves thruout. Officer Smith refereed in a satisfactory manner.

More of this kind of good baseball would be appreciated by local ball sportsmen, proving that baseball can be engaged in in a sportsmanlike manner when the Yahoo boys stay away from the ball park.

The ball game on 12th inst. between Garden Valley and Golden Spike resulted in a win for the Gardeners over the Spikers by 16 runs to 7.

At Edmonton Beach, Sunday, the ball game between Rotary Boys and Trapp's Pets resulted in a win for the latter by 21 to 19 runs.

Walther League beat Garden Valley ball team in Stony on the 19th, by 17 runs to 7.

Capt. Heichen had his footballers out to the Beach Sunday, met a City bunch of players out there, and had a good practice game. A game is scheduled for Sunday next at the Beach between Heichen's bunch and a picked team from the City.

What They're Saying.

A young lady wrote recently to a beauty specialist for a "specific" for keeping her hands nice, soft. He told her to keep her hands in dish water for 15 minutes three times a day while mother rested."

The young people don't have the trouble learning to dance that they did a few years ago. All a couple has to do now is to go on the floor and no matter how much they make monkeys of themselves, the other dancers think they are merely showing off a new kind of dance. — Vegreville Observer.
